

Postdoctoral Fellowship Position at Harvard University

Our department has a postdoc position available in nutrition and/or CVD fields (background or specialty is flexible) under an NIH training grant. Start date is before August 31st 2018. Strong qualifications and recommendations required. Opportunities exist for scientific publications, grant writing, and additional training. Please forward this to any strong candidate who you would personally recommend. They may contact me directly at mattei@hsph.harvard.edu with their CV, and I will provide more information.