

Postdoctoral Position at the University of Miami

A postdoctoral position has just become available at the University of Miami Miller School of Medicine in the area of pediatric GI disorders. This position is funded by a new T32 research training program. We are particularly interested in candidates who have interest in research related to transition from pediatric to adult care for patients with IBS, IBD, or other GI disorders including recurrent abdominal pain; interest in other GI disorders could also be considered. The position is available this fall and pays the NIH salary and comes with full benefits. If you are interested please contact me at adelamater@med.miami.edu.